Wise Waiting
A Big City
A Fine Old German
Poor Trotsky, Happy
Lenin

By Arthur Brisbane

NEW YORK STATE Democratic convention, waiting for Governor Smith returning to select candidates, waited wisely. Governor Smith chose as a candidate for governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, liked and respected by all that know him. For lieutenant-governor, Governor Smith chose Col. Herbert H. Lehman, very able business man, whose untimely capacity for hard work would enable him, if necessary, to relieve Mr. Roosevelt, whose health is bad.

These nominations add strength to the Democratic ticket. Republicans will realize it and work the harder.

New York city has 5,217,500 population, a good-sized city that in a short time, will change to 5,500,000.

Experts show that before this century ends New York and 10 miles of territory around it will have 50,000,000 population, more than all of Great Britain or France.

Machinery, science and intensive cultivation eliminate worry about overpopulation.

Some day, New York, where the United States spends its money, will have a real estate boom worth talking about. Land that now sells for $200 a square foot will sell for $1000, and be cheap at that price.

Germany celebrated yesterday the 11th birthday of Paul von Hindenburg, a great leader and fighter in the war, although he had retired as an old man when the war started.

Von Hindenburg has shown himself a capable, powerful, loyal President of the German Republic. A nation is to be envied that can produce such statesmen.

Trotsky, dying of malaria and consumption in Turkestan, exiled by the Soviet government, is now said to ask for mercy as that of an old man.

Fortunate Lenin, who died in time, for Russia to avenge him. If he were living to night he might be Trotsky's successor.

Alcoholic drinks make a nation drunk. In the South "white man's" powerful alcohol made of corn, is popular. In the Middle West "malt" is drunk by workmen. It is "malt" beer, originally containing no alcohol, but brought up to a highly alcoholic percentage by "milling" it with alcohol.

New York speaks of surrounding newspaper and other plants, "smoke," a deadly alcohol with a little ether added to give the cloudy "smoky" effect. This drink is well described as follows: "Three shots and you know nothing until next day."

Doctors in New York discuss "how to fight old age." Dr. Vincent says doctors concentrate on old people after they are ill instead of keeping them well.

Luigi Corbore solved his problem, waiting at 40 when given up to die by doctors. He lived to 105, mending his horse with cut nails at 80, and wrote to the Pope: "I had to live to 90 years old, I know that the world is beautiful."

He limited his diet to 13 ounces of solid food and 15 ounces of light Italian wine per day. Think how long he might have lived if he had eliminated the 15 ounces of wine and substituted 15 ounces of good, pure, healthy, sparkling ice water.

1,500,000 DOPE RAID IS MADE ABOARD SHIP

New York, Oct. 3 (AP)—Three thousand cans of opium with a bootleg value of $1,500,000 were seized on the Dollar Line steamer President Harrison, which docked at Jersey City, it became known today. Customs officials reported the seizure was the largest consignment of smoking opium ever made at an eastern port. Four Chinese members of the crew were arrested charged with attempted smuggling. It was said that the steamship company was liable to a fine of approximately $500,000 as a result of the seizure and arrests. The federal authorities made it clear that they in no way associated the ship's officers with the attempted smuggling. In the event of an error in the checkup the minimum fine to which the line would be subject, they said, would be $250,000.

DOCTOR IN CAT CASE ESCAPES ARREST

A Back Bay doctor, who neglected to answer a subpoena, for the defense in the "catfish" suit for $500 brought by Mrs. Ida Kulvin of Jamaica Plain against Morris Brown of Humboldt ave., escaped arrest today only through the kindness of Norman F. Hennessey, defense counsel.

Dr. Abraham Colmes, Bay State rd., the physician summoned, was to be the last witness of the case before the case went to the jury shortly after noon in Suffolk Superior Court. When his name was called a young woman in the courtroom arose and informed the bench that the doctor was busy on a professional call.

"You may have a copy if you want it to bring the doctor here," Judge Whiting said to Hennessey. "I don't want to cause any trouble if I can help it," the defense attorney replied. "But I want it to appear that he was summoned."

FALL BROTHERS STATE BROTHERS FOR BARRON

Gov. Fuller today ordered all flags at the State House to be flown at half-mast during the services on Friday for Clarence W. Barron, internationally known financial expert, who died last night at Battle Creek, Mich., from cerebral hemorrhage.

Relatives of the deceased, who were at his bedside when the end came and who will accompany the body back to Boston will announce the date and hour of the obsequies when they reach the city. Governor Fuller issued the following statement:

"Massachusetts is poorer today because of the death of Clarence W. Barron. In the financial world he was a man of outstanding genius and ability, but he was never too busy to lend his talent and ability and charming personality to aid in a charitable undertaking. He was a fine citizen."

Barron, who was 73 years old, was editor of the Wall Street Journal and the Boston News Bureau and was the author of many publications on financial matters. He was a member of the Church of the New Jerusalem (Swedenborgian) and that church will conduct the funeral exercises when the body is brought to the Barron home at 334 Beacon st.

Telegrams of sympathy from all quarters of the globe poured into the Beacon st. residence today as the news of his death spread abroad and among those were numbered some from people of prominence in all walks of life.

To me it is a personal loss, as I valued his friendship and counsel. Mrs. Coolidge joins me in heartfelt sympathy for you and the other members of the family."

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—Figures compiled by the State Department from 67 countries show that approximately a fifth of the total immigration quota for the fiscal year of 1929-30 was exhausted in the first two months, ending August 31. Of the total quota of 144,067 there remained 28,172 vacancies, being 20,842 immigrants known to have been granted visas during the two months. 5 OFFICERS OF SOUTH END ACCUSED

Five officers of Division 5 were being investigated by their superiors today as a result of the arrest of Ethel Dean of South Braintree, who in Municipal Court was found guilty of drunkenness by Judge Taft.

On orders of Judge Taft yesterday Sgt. Thomas O'Donnell, assigned to the court, took down to see Deputy Superintendent Thomas C. Evans, and as a result of this visit the defendant was acquitted today and the inquiry on the conduct of the officers began.

According to Dean he was standing at the South station with a girl in his arms, having just come to Boston from South Braintree, when two men drove up in an automobile, and declaring themselves to be plainclothes officers, took him into custody on suspicion.

He was taken to the station and arrested for two hours and then, stopping at a South End restaurant, ordered him to go in and get himself some coffee. When Dean returned to the station, he said, the officers had left with his guitar.

The South End station man said he told the story to Patrolman Charles H. Walker, the restaurant, until he was accused of drunkenness and arrested. He said also that Walker struck him in the face.

Dean denied he was drunk and his employer corroborated part of his testimony, with the result that he was discharged without comment.

"Lindy" for Hoover; Sees Him as "the Better Man"

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today telegraphed Herbert Hoover that he had a strong feeling that the election of the Republican presidential candidate "is of supreme importance to the country."

The Lindbergh message said: "I have recently flown to St. Louis to register. The more I see of this campaign the more strongly I feel that your leadership is of supreme importance to the country. Your qualities as a man and what you stand for regardless of party make me feel that the problems which will come before our country during the next four years will be best solved under your leadership."

Nichols, who rose from office boy in the back to the position of first army, was convicted in June of this year for violation of the banking laws and in addition to that charge he paid a fine of $100 for violation of State insurance laws.

In announcing that commutation of the sentence had been granted, the Governor's Council declared that since the incarceration of Nichols "his wife had become very ill with a serious ailment and his daughter had recently been recommitted to an asylum."

The commutation, which lasts six months off his sentence, was unanimously recommended by the Board of Pardons.

BUYING CLOTHES FOR DEBUTANTE A PROBLEM—BETTY ALLEN

WHAT IS MISS 1923 DEBUTANTE WEARING THIS SEASON?
The question agitates a small army of modistes, jewelers, milliners and bootmakers. It agitates fond papa who summons fortitude and many shakels to pay the endless bills. It agitates tireless mamma who help darling daughters choose the gown, the wraps and the thousand or more of extras. And ever so pleasantly it agitates the adorable one herself for whom all this amazing amount of concern is expended. Lovingly she considers her frothy evening frocks, her tiny tailcoats, her ragged tweeds, her rich, warm furs. She hovers over costume jewels fashioned in far countries to her adornment. She dots on pretty shoes, pert things of slender and clever lines, an army of them ready for the onslaught of terpsichore. She loves her entire trousseau right down to the very last clever bracelet and insists to cause a furor wherever she appears.

SOMETHING LIKE THE RAINBOW FOR COLOR, AND SOME-THING like high heaven's twinkling stars for its lustre is her evening wardrobe. The gayer the color the more modish the frock, so says Dame Fashion, that variable creature handing down Olympian decrees in Paris to be accepted wholeheartedly by fashionable feminines ranging from Shanghai to Valparaiso. With Miss Debuts she can sing in ecstasy as the little just-arrived confect from its tulle swaths. We see a lovely, glimmering velvet, warm as the heart of an American Beauty rose, light as chip-tulle and graceful as a peacock's tail. And there is also a crisp tulle, coral-colored and shining.

that molds its wearer closely and swirls into a saash of slender length to form a yard of train. Dame Fashion herself would smile on a bright red frock of tulle, a sunset cloud weighed with bits of jet.

still frock patterned in enormous room. Or wear a sophisticated expression of slender sheath and flaring, each fashioned from brilliant blue lamé. A tulle frock in her trousseau commences at the shoulders to the soffit drape roses and ends daintily in dipping hemline with a light touch of lace. Or, of stiff blue brocade, has the boldest of flares at the hips and flatters about its wearer's heels in many points, no two alike. Consider also that high favorite of the dance, black velvet, suavely molded. A girl of chic and endearance achieves a triumph in the midnight shade of glistening velvet that trails from one shoulder a gardenia cluster as its sole adornment.

WHAT SHE WEARS BY DAY
tempered to Back Bay's houses. Is the latest expression of simplicity so cleverly fashioned that only the initiated grasp its clever lines. For instance, a beaded red broadcloth combined with shipling black broadcloth and a helmet hat wrapped like a petal about its wearer's head. Or a golden brown fur wrap, straight from knees to shoulder and there rolling up about its wearer's ears in cosy comfort. What Miss Debuts wraps about herself for evening in the way of furs would bring rhaps of envy from many a royal princess held strictly to an allowance never multifaceted. Ermine, if you please, is high favorite with darling daughter, even though papa may prefer a more plebeian pelt, for his purse's sake. The princess skin left in its natural tone is beautiful enough in any case. But eye it soft, purple or warm beige and the effect is quite eye arresting.

ONE MAGNIFICENT WRAP OF white ermine plus luxury on luxury by means of a deep cape band in sable. Only Miss Debuts paternal parents indulge their daughters in an evening wrap fashioned from the aristocratic of furdom. The velvets and the metal clothes, with soft-furred collars to keep away the winter drafts, furnish a brilliant evening setting for the youth arriving bright-eyed at the party. The daytime furs of a debutante become as much variety and novelty as evening's luxuries. And when she deigns to carry a long coat, the effect is whimsical enough to satisfy the most daring seeker for effect.

THE POST DEBUTANTE
Tucks her trunk and bles her self to classic halls of the higher learning. After a first winter crammed full with excitement the regular routine of college days offers a certain brand of enjoyment to the much-faded girl. Miss Peggy Read, as popular as the day is long and abundantly gifted with good looks, followed the giddy pack. Now she is off to Smith, having long ago passed examinations with flying colors. A bright girl and a most attractive one, she precedes two younger sisters into the social arena where some come off victorious and some do not. Miss Caroline Read stops into Miss Read's shoes and makes a cursey this season. And predictions are made as to exactly as popular as was Miss Peggy Read.

MRS. HAROLD READ OF Appleton St., Cambridge, is the busy mother of this interesting trio of girls, who find time even in the exigencies of presentations and fetes to work for Miss Caroline Read's dance in November. Mrs. Read will be working assiduously for the Junior Division of the R. F. C. C. The moving picture morning she put on with a devoted helpers' corps not long ago brought in a pretty penny and filled her with a vast enthusiasm to repeat the success some time this winter. The society that helps children so wonderfully has a busy autumn in the planning. Something especially large and important looms on the immediate horizon, but plans are even yet a bit nebulous, and not ready for announcement.

MRS. FREDERICK CAMERON CHURCH, JR., is doing the House Show round with enthusiasm and assiduity. Everywhere she goes, the ring appearance of this daughter of the millionaire New York clan is hailed with enthusiasm. She delights the gallery for two reasons. One is herself, and her smart daytime frocks always so deftly worn. The other reason is her horse, over which she handles the ribbons with expert ease. Yesterday, at the big Brookton Fair, she got a blue for her high-spirited Palomares, a sleekly groomed harness horse that did the pace with dash and spirit. The Church string runs to the harness classes—she has a pair she shows to a phantom that is always extremely effective.

UNDOUBTEDLY THE CHURCH establishment in Newport will remain open indefinitely, since it is not only a favorite place of abode but also has stable and groom to house and care for the Church string of horses. Hardly from year's end to year's end is the house itself closed, or the enormous blue-painted chimneys without their curling wisps of smoke. Dudley Place is far from Ochre Point's magnificent expanse and a considerable motor jaunt from Bellevue ave, but its comfortable placidity and spaciousness suit Mrs. Church to a T and make the Church week-end guests perfectly happy.

WIDE CROWD AT BROCKTON FAIR; HORSES HURT 2

Brockton, Oct. 2.—A record-breaking attendance was checked into the Brockton Fair today, Grangers' Day being the big attraction.

As a result all departments of the fair were running, some of them for the first time, and one of the most successful days of the week was expected.

Karl Wright, negro jockey for George Lamson, was thrown when his mount, Perseus, stumbled at the first turn in one of the running races yesterday. He was carried from the track with head, shoulder and leg injuries.

Thomas Fay Walsh, prominent horse man and rider and a contributor to the columns of the Boston Evening American, was kicked on the head by a horse being exhibited in the show ring.

As the horse flashed out through the gate into the oval, the rider brought his whip down, and the animal lashed out with his hoofs, one of them striking Walsh over the left ear, inflicting a wound which required three stitches.

Roy Griffith, parachute jumper, with Professor Flavors, had a novel experience and collected for himself a coat of green paint when he dropped 15,000 feet in three chutes. He landed on a sun parlor of the residence of George B. Cram, at Green and Newbury sts., near the center of the city.

$11,000 POLICE GRAFT WEEKLY

Philadelphia, Oct. 3 (AP)—A new urn of alleged police graft, which makes the "protection" money said to have been paid by bootleggers look small in comparison, has been uncovered by Dist. Atty. Rosenbaum, who is conducting the grand jury investigation of rum runners and gangster activities.

The new system was revealed with the arrest of four detectives, charged with extorting money. One of the detectives was held in $500 bail for trial.

They were alleged to have collected $250 a week from a single house in a police district in which 200 establishments were reported by the court commander to be in open operation.

Clara Barton, proprietor of one of these places, in testifying against the detectives, declared that her payments for protection, starting at $45 a week, had been raised until they finally had reached $250 a week.

FRANCE ASKS BRITAIN TO PUBLISH NAVY PACT

London, Oct. 3 (AP)—The question of publication of the Anglo-French naval agreement has come before the British government, the French foreign office having raised it in a desire to have the terms made public. The French ambassador to London visited the foreign office yesterday. It is understood that there is little likelihood of publication until there has been at least another cabinet meeting, and it is probable that a decision will not be made until Parliament resumes in November.

CHURCH ABSCONDER ON WAY BACK TO ATLANTA

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 3 (HNS)—Union S. Carver, absconding treasurer of the Southern Baptist Home Mission Society, started back to Atlanta today in custody of a deputy prosecuting attorney and Deputy Sheriff J. L. Tolson, who had the prisoner arrested. Accused of stealing $100,000, the alleged defaulter insisted that he left Atlanta with no more than $5000. And that's all I had," he said. "I didn't steal any million dollars from the mission board. That's absurd."

Bede for Smith

New York, Oct. 3.—Former Republican Congressman J. Adam Bede of Minnesota announced today that he would support Governor Smith because of the Governor's stand on "arm relief and prohibition. I think the Governor is sure of Wisconsin," said Bede, "and that he will carry Minnesota, North Dakota and Nebraska."

Bank System Resources More Than 28 Billion

Philadelphia, Oct. 3 (AP)—The American Bankers' Association is representative of a banking system which shows resources larger at this time than at any other period in its history, E. A. Or-thank of Pittsburgh, Penn., said in addressing the convention today. "On June 30 this year, and for the first time," he said, "the total resources exceeded $28,000,000,000. In the abstract this is a staggering sum, but when one considers the breadth of its distribution and the very large percentage of our nation's trade and commerce which is financed thereby, the total does not seem unduly large."

ANGEL GUARDIAN BOYS SEE THURSTON'S MAGIC Hundreds of boys who form the population of the House of the Angel Guardian, Jamaica Plain, were entertained in royal fashion by Howard Thurston, world famous magician, under auspices of the Boston Evening American. Rabbits, geese and guinea pigs were discovered by the master slight-of-hand entertainer, under coats of the good brothers who conduct this fine institution, to the keen enjoyment of their young charges. The youngsters were made a part of the show which, of course, doubled their fun. Get some pieces of real white, but it will not be so to keep it, and later it will be for you. $1,342,597 ESTATE IS LEFT BY DR. LOTHROP Dr. Howard A. Lothrop, eminent Boston surgeon, left, according to an inventory filed in the Suffolk Registry of Probate today, personal property to the value of $1,342,597 and real estate appraised at $12,500. Dr. Myron Standish, a Boston physician, who recently died, left $294,333, all personal property.

CRUSHED TO DEATH BY BARREL OF GASOLINE Woods Hole, Oct. 3 (AP)—Maurice Ramsey, 55, who was employed as the estate of J. M. Forbes and Co., of Nantucket Island, was killed today when a barrel of gasoline fell on him from a wagon.

HOOVER MAINTAINS HIS LEAD OVER SMITH IN BAY STATE POLL

Herbert Hoover maintained his lead over Governor Al Smith throughout the New England states today in the presidential straw vote being conducted by the Boston Evening American by 9015 votes.

That the "battle of battles" is being waged between Hoover and Smith in the Old Bay State and that, as heretofore, the Republican candidate is being handily crowned by the New York governor, in these two States

Hoover leads Smith in the grand total of all the New England States, in the figures so far tabulated. It is obvious that the Republican candidate is being handily crowned by the New York governor, in these two States

The Massachusetts vote: Hoover 18,467 Smith 17,718 Hoover's majority 749 The Rhode Island vote: Hoover 5,235 Smith 4,183 Hoover's majority 1,052

Hoover's majority 140 The New England States vote: Massachusetts 18,467 Smith 17,718 Maine 5,235 Smith 4,183 Rhode Island 5,235 Smith 4,183 Vermont 4,183 Smith 3,183

Total 39,811 39,796 Hoover's majority 9,015

Tabulation of poll cards returns from all parts of this State and the other New England States as well show that the switching of votes has become more than a riot. It is a revolution.

In this respect Smith pronunciation, YET, Hoover has managed to hold the lead he established a few days ago, despite the swing from Coolidge to Smith, the straw vote shows.

For instance, the following is the way the straw voters marked their ballots in 1924.

Coolidge Davis Massachusetts 18,467 Smith 17,718 Maine 5,235 Smith 4,183 Rhode Island 5,235 Smith 4,183 Vermont 4,183 Smith 3,183

Total 39,811 39,796 Hoover's majority 9,015

The above figures show that Smith has gained 16,515 votes over those given Davis in 1924, while Hoover is shy 3,428 votes given to Coolidge four years ago.

Take Massachusetts for example. Hoover, to date in the straw vote, received 18,467 against a 17,718 for Coolidge in 1924, or 4,468 less than Coolidge.

Smith has recorded in his favor 17,718 straw votes to 17,718 for Davis in 1924, or a gain of 10,158 votes.

Despite this showing of loss as Hoover's part, and a decided gain in the South column, Hoover, as stated before, has been able to overcome these obstacles and in keeping ahead of his Democratic opponent, according to the straw tabulations.

A neat 257 votes in this State separates Hoover from Smith in the women's total. When the poll was first started, Hoover had a walkaway in this State and also in Rhode Island, carrying the female vote.

Again Hoover has shown decided gains in Massachusetts and Rhode Island towards this end, so much so that he has also gained the female vote of the straw ballot, so says a perusal of the early tabulation.

Hoover's majority in Massachusetts

Likewise other large cities through the State have a leaning towards Smith, yet it is important to note that Hoover is getting better than a fifty-fifty break in New Bedford.

The Western part of the State still remains loyal to the G. O. P., the postcard returns show. Pittsfield has also come to the aid of the Republican candidate as well as St. John, Everett, Melrose and Medford.

The straw ballot indicates that the greatest political fight in the history of Massachusetts is in the making, and to date it is a narrow margin that separates the leaders.

Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont are still favorable to Hoover without any material change, in the straw vote, to be alarming to Republican candidates.

A Versatile Seasoning

When you think of making the dressing for the Sunday chicken, naturally you think of Bell's Poulet Dressing, but when you think of Bell's Poulet Dressing do you think of dressing? If you do you are overlooking many delicious dishes that owe their zest to the seasoning that makes good food taste better. For instance there is a case of lamb seasoned with Bell's Dressing that will serve six at a cost of 12 cents. The recipe is young, of course, upon request. Then there is a splendid meat loaf and a casserole of rice and meat, and a special stuffing for fish. These you may be familiar with, but I wonder how many of you have ever tried a potato stuffing for ducks seasoned with Bell's Poulet Dressing? Or a potato stuffing if you prefer, that is equally good for domestic ducks. There is a casserole of pork, onion, mushrooms, Bell's Poulet Dressing, flour, milk, pepper and salt that I doubt that you can tell from chicken, and still another luscious combination of pork chops placed in a hot pan, fried to a brown, seasoned with pepper, salt and a liberal dash of Bell's Dressing. These are arranged on a platter in groups of three and the space filled in the center with fried apples. Shall I send you a leaflet of some of these "different" dishes?

FOUR AFTERNOONS—FRIDAY EVENING

Food-keeping is important!

Modern housekeepers should appreciate the importance of keeping food always at the scientifically correct temperature. They should know that only constant dry cold—well below 50 degrees—can check bacterial growth. They should realize that year-round refrigeration is vital, because kitchens do get as warm in winter as they do in summer.

And the most modern housekeepers naturally turn to this "years ahead" refrigerator. They like the fact that it operates so automatically that they never even have to oil it. They like its extreme quietness. They like the enclosed mechanism which is so safely sealed in its air-tight steel casing, away from floor dirt. Important, too, is the constant gentle upward current of air from the top coils that prevents dust from settling.

The General Electric has ample broom-room underneath. It uses little current and makes plenty of ice cubes.

These refrigerators are the result of fifteen years of development in the Research Laboratories of General Electric Company.

You should really come in and look at the various models yourself. Pick the one you want and then let us arrange a convenient payment plan.

Martha Lee Opens Cooking School at Statler

The first session of the Martha Lee Annual Free Cooking School held yesterday afternoon at the Statler of the Hotel Statler, was a tremendous success. More than two thousand enthusiastically and deeply interested women from Boston and surrounding towns thronged the auditorium. Certainly there is no question today in anybody's mind that our womenfolk are keen to hear the problems of housework discussed from the standpoint of the housekeeper by a nationally known authority. A more delightful gathering it would be hard to imagine, and with this splendid start we are sure the Cooking School is going to be a remarkable event for our readers and friends.

Although the lecture was announced to start at 3 o'clock, women began gathering shortly after 1 o'clock. There was music in entrance the early comers, and between numbers played there was much sociability over the prospect of an interesting afternoon and much speculation over what Martha Lee and Mrs. Lilla P. Cross were going to say and discuss in the way of surprises.

Promptly at 3 o'clock Mr. E. M. Mahoney, managing editor of the Boston Evening American, introduced Martha Lee, who in turn introduced Mrs. Cross to the audience. At the conclusion of these fitting remarks of welcome, Mrs. Cross, amid an exceptionally stirring wave of applause, stepped forward upon the platform and immediately captivated her audience with her charming personality and contagious smile. We have been talking a good deal about this lecture before "famous. Everyone present yesterday afternoon will agree that Mrs. Cross deserves all the adjectives in Webster's to describe the clear, instructive and enjoyable manner in

Dining Suite From Paine's at Martha Lee School

It is a beautiful feature of the new dining-room suite of the Colonial Influence used by Martha Lee in her Annual Free Cooking School at the Hotel Statler this week, is from Paine's. Those attending the school are invited to visit this famous furniture store, just across the street from the Statler, and see the model display Room recently completed. "Fine furniture in a home at Paine's."

As she worked and talked and mixed recipes among these various devices for making kitchen procedure simpler and easier, Mrs. Cross stressed the importance of the housekeeper of having good tools such as unmeasuring spoons, paring knives, covers, affixed, etc., and emphasized the use of reliable, standard cook books in the place of haphazard guess methods. Of course, carefully selected ingredients played a prominent part in the demonstration, as it is an acknowledged principle that good cookery requires the dependence upon quality ingredients. Very close attention was given to the ingredients discussed by Mrs. Cross and to the proportion used and the reasons for greater care than is customary in this regard. All food products used in the demonstration are to be found in local grocery stores.

And the edict! They made a lot of fun. Twenty-five market baskets well filled with fine assortments of foodstuffs were awarded to twenty-five fortunate women.

Several cakes, salads and other foodstuffs were also given away to the fortunate women. Tomorrow the second session will be held in the same delightful meeting place, the beautiful Ballroom well filled with fine assortments of foodstuffs were awarded to twenty-five fortunate women.

The program for tomorrow will be filled with interesting dishes and discussions. Come early and bring along some more questions. Mrs. Cross wants to clear up any doubtful questions on any subjects that you have got yet concerned in your home.

Here is tomorrow's program.

MARTHA LEE AGAIN CHOOSES A GLENWOOD

The stamp of approval was placed on a Glenwood insulated gas range by Martha Lee and Mrs. Lilla P. Cross again this year when they chose the Glenwood for exclusive use in the Annual Martha Lee Free Cooking School. It is absolutely necessary, of course, that every one of Mrs. Cross' famous recipes come from the oven in perfect condition. And this the Glenwood guarantees.

The Glenwood Range Company is the pioneer in producing a range that will cook and bake all day and at the same time keep the kitchen cool. The oven, where it belongs, and the kitchen cool. This oven bakes food evenly on top bottom and sides no matter where the food is placed. Everyone of the hundreds of New England housewives present at the Martha Lee Free Cooking School yesterday were keenly interested in the announcement made by Miss Martha Lee, that of the two insulated, even-controlled Glenwoods which will be given away entirely free to visitors at this school. Miss Darling, as you all know I am sure, is director of the Home Service Department of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company.

"Away from your ovens!" urges Mrs. Lilla Pauline Cross at her Boston American Cooking School

SHE endorses Bond Bread because she has seen it baked and knows that only the purest and best ingredients are used.

More important than that, she knows Bond Bread has home-like flavor.

She knows that there is no substitute for quality, and that housewives always get what they pay for when they buy Bond.

THIS BOND, printed on each wrapper, guarantees each ingredient. From this Bond, Bond Bread gets its name.

PLUG BIGGEST SMOKE TO PUSH WAR FOR GOES IN NEW YORK

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—With hopes of insuring a Republican victory in the Empire state by one tremendous political effort, Herbert Hoover today announced initiative plans for the largest Republican rally of the campaign in New York city, October 21.

Charles Evans Hughes will share the spotlight with Hoover at the nominee's personal invitation. Both Hoover and Hughes will address the gathering in Madison Square Garden and a national hookup of broadcast big stations will carry their speeches to every corner of the country. Under the plan, which most Hoover approval, the rally will be one of the greatest political gatherings ever held in America.

MAY GET ROOT

Albert Otter, Republican nominee for Governor of New York, and former Ambassador Houghton, the party choice for the Senate, will speak from the same platform with Hoover and Hughes, under present plans. An effort is being made to get Elihu Root, the "Grand Old Man" of the Republican party, to preside at the meeting, or at least to attend it.

The Republican nominee will remain in New York city over night in order to confer with state and county leaders the next morning. He will return to Washington after these conferences.

BOSTON VISIT

Hoover meanwhile studied plans for his invasion of New England. He is to speak in Boston October 15. The nominee probably will leave here for the Sunday night preceding, going direct to Boston. Following his appearance in Boston, the nominee probably will return to Washington by way of Springfield, Mass., and Hartford, Conn., with stops in both cities.

Hoover has decided to confer with Connecticut leaders on his trip to New England. He probably will meet many of the Rhode Island leaders at the same time.

The nominee was pleased today with two reports. First, he was told by Senator David A. Reed of Pennsylvania, that the Keystone State was "safely" Republican. Second, he was told by Western miners over the telephone that Senator Furch has been a "real tonic" success in stamping the Vodka West for him in the wake of Governor Nelson's tour.

BORN TO CONFER

Hoover will confer in Washington with Senator Nelson's tour. He will meet with Governor Nelson's tour. He will meet with Governor Nelson's tour.

Hoover's tour will be a "real tonic" success in stamping the Vodka West for him in the wake of Governor Nelson's tour.

CURTIS TAKES REST BEFORE STARTING ON NEW TOUR

Chicago, Oct. 3 (AP)—Senator Curtis, the Republican Vice-Presidential nominee, is seeking complete rest here this week preparatory to undertaking a new tour of the Northeast next week.

Tonight the Senator is on the program to address the meeting arranged by the Swedish-American Society. He will speak for an hour, but because of his weakened voice he expects to make his remarks very brief.

184 HOSPITALS AND INSTITUTIONS ARE USING FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

Old Fashioned Medicine for Colds and Body

Building Has Proved Its Value By 73 Years Success

Father John's Medicine is now being used in 184 hospitals, and institutions from coast to coast in the United States and Canada.

During its 73 years of success in the treatment of colds, throat troubles and all body aches, Father John's Medicine has come to be recognized in a great many hospitals and charitable institutions as having great value. Because it is guaranteed free from alcohol and drugs in any form, doctors everywhere recommend it.

Mrs. McCormick's Cows Give Cure for Goitre

Chicago, Oct. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick's Holstein herd, one of the finest in the Midwest, has been turned over to science, to seek a preventive and cure for common goitre.

Since July 1 the herd of Mrs. McCormick's Holsteins has been under experimental conditions for goitre. The cows are being fed a diet of alfalfa, clover and timothy, with a minimum of 150 to 200 parts of iodine in a billion makes milk effective as a cure for goitre.

At the office of the Journal of the American Medical Association the tests were described as "most interesting and potentially of considerable value in the Lake Michigan region where water and soil are deficient in iodine."

By feeding iodine, however, the milk of the cows is made "em like it."

Hoover also said the former was as much as which must meet the great national problem with a policy with cases of open-mindedness and human sympathy.

It is an address to young voters of New York City he said "the party, to maintain itself in vigor must be constantly replenished, not a members, but in spirit and ideas."

Hoover Tells Young Voters Party Needs Youth, Vigor

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—The aim of the Republican party was determined today by Herbert Hoover as he which must meet the great national problem with a policy with cases of open-mindedness and human sympathy.

It is an address to young voters of New York City he said "the party, to maintain itself in vigor must be constantly replenished, not a members, but in spirit and ideas."

It cannot rely for its main strength upon historic achievements, nor upon the long list of distinguished leaders who have left their traditions upon it," he continued. "It is the traditions of their service, their ideals and policies which must link to the necessities of the present."

Several other points are under consideration, particularly one in Ohio on the same trip. Three Ohio sites are under consideration—Cincinnati, Columbus and Cleveland.

"I'll be on the deciding," he said today, when questioned about future plans. "Right now nothing has been decided."

It is known, however, that the Governor is determined to go into the North Carolina, where the opposition to his candidacy has been more pronounced probably than in any other Southern State. It is there that the Republicans are striving to their utmost to break into the solid South.

There has been some difference of opinion between the schedule makers over the Missouri date. Originally it was intended that Governor Smith should speak in St. Louis, normally a Republican city, and in other years a famous oratorical center.

Democratic hopes of carrying Missouri are predicated upon Governor Smith's rolling up a large vote in that State. Lately Missouri state managers have decided things are so favorable in St. Louis that a personal appearance there by Governor Smith is not necessary and that the Missouri date should rather be spotted in rural Missouri, so details, he has been tentatively selected.

Roosevelt Won Fame as Harvard Athlete

New York, Oct. 3 (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, nominated for Governor of New York by the Democratic party, is a fifth cousin of Theodore Roosevelt. He was always a fighter. From the time, as editor of the Critic, Harvard's student newspaper, he fought for and obtained adequate first accept for the Harvard dormitories he has always been fighting, generally for some one else.

On his island home at Campobello, N. B., he was stricken with infantile paralysis. For a long time his life was despaired of. Finally he won his fight with death but was paralyzed from the waist down. He was confined to a truck, tennis player, outdoor man and swimmer.

Textile Industry in N. E. Suffers, Says Robinson

Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 3 (AP)—Senator Robinson has started his campaign in this state by telling its voters that if he don't puncture this Republican property balloon floating over Oklahoma—well, go your own way, vote that ticket and take the consequences.

Campaigning here in the heart of the rich oil region, the Democratic Vice-Presidential nominee has declared that reports were in the effect that the oil industry has not been "very profitable in the last few years."

"You know there is no such prosperity in the oil industry," he said, "that will enable the Republican party to claim your support."

This statement, made in his address here last night, brought a shout from an audience which filled every seat in the city's convention hall and some of the crowd cried out: "Pour it on 'em, Joe; pour it on 'em!"

Doctors have known the value of cod liver oil for a great many years and have used it freely in their practice. Modern research has determined the reason for its value, and given it the name of vitamin.

It is unquestioned that cod liver oil, when given in palatable form such as Father John's Medicine, is one of the greatest body builders for those who are weakened or run down.

The Dominican Sisters of St. Dominic Monastery, La Crosse, Wisconsin, allow us to quote from a recent letter:

"We have found out that there is nothing better than Father John's Medicine for colds, or building up the body. It does a world of good."

EDW. A. FLEENE R. T. REPUBLICAN TO SUPPORT PLATFORM IS GOV. SMITH REGULAR 'DRY'

New York, Oct. 3—Edward A. Fleene, department store owner of Boston, nominated by the "American Home Progressive Party" for Vice-President, returned today on the Rar. France and announced that he is supporting Governor Smith.

Fleene was "nominated" by the founder of the "American Progressive Party," Conrad Reno of Boston. Henry Ford was named as the party's candidate for President at a "convention" attended by only two persons, Reno and a neighbor.

Mr. Fleene described his "nominational" as a joke, but talked seriously about his support of Smith, although he is a prohibitionist.

"Governor Smith's stand is sound when he says he will enforce the 18th amendment, though reserving the individual right to work for a lawful repeal," Mr. Fleene declared.

He added that even if Governor Smith were elected he could do nothing to advance the cause of the vote.

RUM SMUGGLER'S SLAYER KILLS HIMSELF BY GAS

January City, Oct. 3 (AP)—James MacGuckin, 34, United States customs guard who on July 14 shot and killed Leo Boice, smuggler, who was indicted for murder, committed suicide at his home here.

His mother found his body in a gas-filled room today. MacGuckin shot Boice when the latter attempted to smuggle two bottles of liquor from a rooming house in Hoboken. The customs officer claimed self-defense, charging Boice attempted to strike him with the bottle.

SECRET LOVE by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

Will Any Man Love Girl With a Past?

CHAPTER 15.

THE BARSTOW lingered over her toilet, added a touch of rouge to her pale lips. She wanted to look especially lovely, for her son, Curtis had always been sweetheart to her, as well as son. She had kept young for his sake. "You're my girl," he used to say, laughing, bringing her flowers or bonbons. Lately he had forgotten that. He was neglecting her. And she knew why.

"If it were someone else I wouldn't care," she thought. "Someone from our own set, Kathleen Hughes. No, she's such a selfish thing, she'd care. Not a girl out of de Guttry's shop."

She was going to speak of it, after dinner. It was hard to find just the right opening. Curtis was restless, uncommunicative.

"I was in Frankie de Guttry's shop today," she said guardedly. And instantly he was alert, interested. "How Joan?"

"No, I talked to Frankie."

His nose went back in the newspaper.

She came and sat on the arm of his chair, drew his smooth head back against her bosom. "Curtis—"

"Curtis, on the one night you're home won't you talk to mother? We've wisdom see each other."

"Of course. I'm getting to be an old woman."

"Now you're fishing," he smiled.

"You know you put all the young girls in the shade."

She looked down at her slender arms in the evening gown, looking, to hide the small, gruffed smile she couldn't suppress.

"Again, again, you won't mind if I speak very frankly about Joan?"

"You shut me stiffen, but she went out."

"I do admit her, the tremendous, she is making a brave hand, and for her own sake."

"Yes, dear, don't you see you can't help her by taking her out so much?"

"I wasn't trying to help her. Merely enjoying her company."

He was getting that set look about the mouth that always meant "Joan."

"Yes, dear, but is it quite fair to the child? It will misrepresent her to the world, and in your position, can you afford?"

"Then Curtis answered. In all the years of his life he had never known her like this. It wasn't that he hated the defiance and defiance that she had always taken as her right. He was as gentle and smiling as a lamb. As ever. But he utterly, completely, disregarded her wishes. He hoped she would overcome her prejudice against Joan because it wasn't very much to feel that she didn't love the girl he was going to marry. He fully intended to marry Joan. She was his ideal of a womanhood. She was beautiful, she was intelligent, she was charming and sweet-tempered. Her mind was fully made up. And that was that.

For the first time in 15 years Mrs. Barstow tried herself to sleep.

"Ann, the thing."

"Ann," murmured the young man with his feet on the table.

"Let's turn it. It's almost morning. You should have been with the night tonight. Ruth was going good. Great little girl. Filled her papers for divorce."

"She did? But all up all interest."

"The sure did. Yep, she's gonna be Mrs. Rollo Keyes. Watch her. Please turn to Page 13, Column 1."

BANKER EFFACES 50 YEARS

CURS HIS YOUTH AGAIN AS HE ENTERS HARVARD

William Leonard Benedict, Harvard's 68-year-old junior thinks college life is the one and the only life for him.

With a text book under his arm and the buoyancy of youth in his eyes he came back at college today to complete his junior course in applied 50 years ago when he entered banking.

In that time he rose to the top-most rung of the ladder and retired as partner in the firm of Kidder, Peabody & Co. to go back to school.

"I'm just dandy to be back at college," he said. "It seems quite natural to start where I left off 50 years ago."

GETS YOUNG AGAIN

"I'm looking forward to an interesting span of years in lecture and classroom. The very atmosphere of the campus and quadrangle seems to rejuvenate me and give me that mental and physical poise which the advance of age destroys."

Unless he is flunked in his studies, as he fearfully put it, Benedict will complete his full college course by a degree.

He said his favorite is English literature and the works of Shakespeare will be his chief study.

As he walked into the college yard at Harvard, students hailed to greet him.

BIBLE, MUSIC, ENGLISH

The retired banker all his life has had the desire to finish the college studies he started at the instigation of Technology more than half a century ago.

As ever, but he utterly, completely, disregarded her wishes. He hoped she would overcome her prejudice against Joan because it wasn't very much to feel that she didn't love the girl he was going to marry. He fully intended to marry Joan. Finds Lost Boy

SENDS HIM HOME

Alice Nee of Rutherford, N. J., today and immediately started for Bedford.

The middle-aged woman was given her freedom at one minute past midnight. With her when she boarded the Boston train, en route for Bedford, was a sister, who had been waiting in Albany most of the day.

Mrs. Knapp was jailed following a trial on grand larceny charges. These involved the alleged theft of State census funds in 1922.

It was asserted in indictments that Mrs. Knapp diverted State funds to her own use, cashed forged checks and paid out money in the name of relatives who performed no service for the State.

She was tried as a special sitting of supreme Court and when the list of charges was trimmed down she was eventually sentenced to one month.

When she was released from the State Prison, she was met by her sister, who had been waiting in Albany most of the day.

FREE, MRS. PRINCE TO KNAPP TO JOIN OUR COME HERE ANCIENTS

Her term of one month served, Mrs. Florence E. R. Knapp, former Secretary of State for New York, was released from jail at Albany, N. Y., today and immediately started for Bedford.

The middle-aged woman was given her freedom at one minute past midnight. With her when she boarded the Boston train, en route for Bedford, was a sister, who had been waiting in Albany most of the day.

Mrs. Knapp was jailed following a trial on grand larceny charges. These involved the alleged theft of State census funds in 1922.

It was asserted in indictments that Mrs. Knapp diverted State funds to her own use, cashed forged checks and paid out money in the name of relatives who performed no service for the State.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN'S PLATFORM FOR BOSTON AND NEW ENGLAND

For BOSTON: 1—Clean streets.
2—Solution of traffic and parking problems.
3—Better pay for honest public service.
4—An airport SECOND TO NONE.
5—Erection of a MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM to compare with any in the land.
In order that Boston, properly supplied with first-class hotels, may be the premier convention city of the U. S. A.

For NEW ENGLAND: 1—Weld the six States into a unit through the activities of the New England Council, thus creating a community consciousness.
2—Promote intercourse with Central and South America, encouraging New Englanders to "turn to the sea" again.

3—Keeping everlastingly at the job of telling the rest of the country all about our unique advantages as Summer and Winter Playground of the Nation.
4—Foster the prosperity of our industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of modern methods in merchandising.
5—Promote in every way such natural resources as forests, water powers and fisheries.
6—Assist New England agriculture to better marketing methods.

Sleepy Election Officers

Unkind to Senator Mulvey, Who Must Wait SIX YEARS for Vindication

There being 337 voting places in the city of Boston, with a complement of 2034 election officers, it is not strange that inaccuracies in the counting of votes should occur, especially when precinct forces are compelled to labor from 6 o'clock in the morning until 2 a. m. on the day following.

What we have in mind is the singular case of John R. Campbell vs. State Senator James J. Mulvey, for the Democratic nomination for Clerk of the Superior Criminal Court.

On the day after the primary election, the Senator was declared to be the winner by a plurality of 593.

A recount makes Mr. CAMPBELL the victor, by 32 votes.

The explanation offered by Chairman Frank Seiberlich of the Board of Election Commissioners is that precinct officers, fatigued by a long hour of duty, easily fell into the error of crediting to Clark Francis A. Campbell, of the Superior Civil Court, votes which actually belonged to his namesake.

This sounds reasonable enough, but Chairman Seiberlich might go further and tell us what steps are to be taken to make such mistakes impossible in the future.

The fact that in John R. Campbell the County is assured of a clerk of court fitted for his post by character, training and experience makes the situation only a little more agreeable than it might be otherwise. These political sea-saws have a tendency to make friends for the man who is left on the "down" end. If another election were to be held two years from now, the same one hears expressed for Senator Mulvey might elect him.

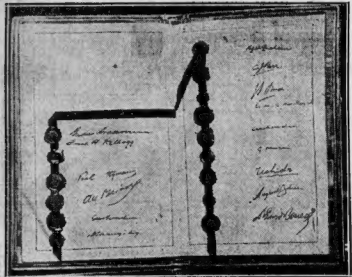

It appears, however, that the clerk of the Superior Criminal Court is chosen for a LONGER TERM THAN THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Once upon a time, somebody in the Legislature who knew the ropes must have "looked after" this office with considerable shrewdness. "Jimmy" Mulvey will have to wait for his vindication until 1934.

How many citizens will then recall—and resent—the "ride" Senator Mulvey was given in 1928?

An Important Document

What Will Be Its Power?

Here you see a reproduction of the last pages of the peace pact signed in Paris.

The greatest nations of the world, through their plenipotentiaries, signed this agreement, decorated with many seals, pledging themselves to renounce war.

That pact of peace is supposed to be an agreement among the Powers of the world FOREVER abolishing war as a means of settling misunderstandings between nations.

Many will say that is impossible, forgetting that only a little while ago men in this country settled their personal quarrels by duels, killing each other.

One of our greatest statesmen, Alexander Hamilton, in the early days of the Republic was killed in a duel in Hoboken, France, tomorrow, with her fighting fleet of 5000 airplanes plus the horrible gas and explosives produced by modern chemistry, could destroy London in a few hours, and wipe out the lives of millions of Britons.

It should not be impossible for nations to reach the same agreement, but what seems RIGHT is not always DONE.

Men knew that slavery was wrong long before it was abolished.

Men knew, long ago, that settling quarrels by the duel was stupid. Cardinal Richelieu, great Prime Minister of France, endeavored to stop duelling 300 years ago, but the duelling went on.

However, war now actually means RENUNCIATION of wholesale EXTORTION.

France, tomorrow, with her fighting fleet of 5000 airplanes plus the horrible gas and explosives produced by modern chemistry, could destroy London in a few hours, and wipe out the lives of millions of Britons.

That France could do to Britain, Britain could do to Paris and France.

It is not conceivable that under such conditions war should endure. Let us hope, therefore, that the signatures on this peace pact MEAN something.

At the end, before the signatures, are written these words: "IN FAITH WHEREOF THE REPRESENTATIVE PLENIPOTENTIARIES HAVE SIGNED THIS TREATY."

Let us hope that "FAITH" will last, that great nations will refrain from warring war against each other, and unite to suppress and punish those who do make war, which should be classed as murder.

SOLITUDE GIVES US RIGHT PERSPECTIVE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE world is too much with us, says Wordsworth. We must always have something going on to divert us. We must have newspapers, company, clubs, and shows.

We are diverted to death, at least to a frazzle. If we would only get away sometimes occasionally by ourselves and loaf and invite our souls it would do us good. Spend an hour in thoughtful meditation alone, said Carlyle, and see how much nonsense will be cleaned out of you.

Only from the point of view of solitude can we get the right perspective, see what things are worth while and what things do not matter.

Most of the time we are too close to things. Let us retreat into the silence.

There are mighty few who know how to be alone.

And yet it is a most useful accomplishment. It would save us many a bitter hour and many a foolish deed if we understood it.

Solitude is one of the terrors of the world. Men in solitary confinement go mad. Left to ourselves we get bored, wretched, desperate. We are afraid to sleep in an empty house. Silence scares us. Even contention and disagreeable people are better than peace and quiet with loneliness.

But, like most other bugbears that frighten us with their shadows, solitude is not all bad when you go right up to it and look it in the face.

Let us, therefore, get a full face view of solitude, dismiss our panic fears and see what it is made of. Solitude consists of me and myself. The only reason it alarms me is because myself is the one thing I am not familiar with—the one thing I do not study, examine and try. Hence, when we are left alone and if we want to scream and run.

The way to overcome this fear is to practice being alone. Everybody ought to have some time of the day when he is absolutely by himself. Then he should look into his heart and his mind and get used to their contents.

It is amusing what an hour of utter silence and isolation will do for us if we seek it and endeavor to use it. At first

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

THIS article won't do you a bit of good, but you'd better read it. I've got the BUTTERMILK BLAZER.

It is not the title of a popular song. It is the name of my personal peevishness.

Before I proceed, look me over. Am I an eye-ball? I am. I am probably as lucky a blonde as ever looked across a cattle range or swung a single jack in a mine. Both of which I have done—and how! I am nearly six feet tall, with a wallop in proportion. Given reasonable care it should have lasted about 90 years without a wrinkle. And yet—

I'm eating buttermilk these days. With a small baked potato and some plain broth and maybe a nice little bowl of soup I get real rejuvenated.

Burn up the road and your own inside.

After we've saved time what do we do with it? Generally speaking, not a thing. Personally, I could have written everything that's worth writing with half the calm and perspiration. But I had the hurry man.

And after we're hurried for 30 or 40 years—what then?

WHY THEN WE'RE HURDLED THROUGH LIFE AT A HUNDRED MILES AN HOUR.

I turned out more copy in quicker time than any other human who ever penned a typewritten letter.

Any day now I was my dear. NOW I'M DRINKING BUTTERMILK WITH CLAM BROTH ON THE SIDE!

And the doctors tell me that it will be overhauled, perhaps, by the doubts, misgivings and questionings that arise, and will be tempted to flee for relief to any kind of companionship; men, women or books. But if we persist and just let the mind and heart boil over until they get settled, by and by there will come to us a certain quiet and contentment we find in no other way.

I am the only person I cannot get away from. It stands me instead to make myself as agreeable as possible. It is a false and foolish humility that says, "I hate myself. I know I am no good," and all that. For we hate ourselves just as we hate others, because we are not acquainted. "Don't introduce me to that man," said Sidney Smith. "I feel it my duty to hate him, and you can't hate a man when you know him."

New York Day by Day

O.O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—New York's countless pavements are a tribute to its profligacy and stilted dreams. It is estimated 35 per cent of the adult population pays a visit to Uncle some time or other and, of course, there is the army of constant customers.

North of 14th st. the pavement takes on privacy and dignity. These are patronized by gamblers, racketeers and others who live lightly. These shops offer no jingles, no window displays, and the patrons enter inconspicuously side doors.

Windows are frosted or blacked out so that passersby cannot see from the street. The clerks are rather polished men who pilot you into any reception room, like those in a private bank, with a flourish. They are taciturn but, of course, they are usually in collars.

Their offices are salons de luxe and in no wise comparable to the dingy repositories of dead hopes on the lower East side. Here important theatrical stars, suddenly at liberty, bring open ropes of pearls and other jewels.

It is along the Bowery the cheap pawnshop flourish. Here their clients are the patrons of the Bowery, with tinkling bells constantly ringing over their gloomy portals to guide untidy steps at night.

In their barred windows are such more ways than one, such as movable type, crutches, and in what is even more unusual, the Bowery type of loan office on the Bowery is called a "reliever shop." They are usually in collars.

Here the Bowery flatter may take the old suit, hat or shoes he is wearing, receive articles, a little more wear and the price of a drink or so to boot.

THE life of a private chauffeur in New York is not so sad. There is one who has been around the world twice, and for three months a year, while his employer is at his lodge in Canada, is on vacation with roll pay.

IT pays to be considered of New York hotel telephone girls. One in a stinging letter to newspapers tells how she and her sisters get even with cantankerous guests. They charge them for unanswered calls and wrong numbers.

IT would take an expert in psychology to explain the mystery of the telephone girls. These girls are the telephone girls. They are the telephone girls. They are the telephone girls. They are the telephone girls.

THE growth of croquet in the past few years is another one of those things. The social status is defined by the fact that almost every newly-learned croquet on Long Island is equipped with croquet evens.

A FRIEND of croquet is in a stew because a queen bee has been moved from the apical and refused to return. His crop of honey has become a total loss. I may be embarrassed, but I never feel exactly right living off a lady bee that way.

Prosperity

Which No One Can Deny

One member of the Cabinet who can talk "Coolidge prosperity" and back his claims with fact and figure, is the Secretary of Commerce, Mr. William F. Whiting, of Holyoke.

The opening this week of Whiting mill No. 3 in the Paper City will give employment to 350 men, in addition to the 1000 regularly at work in the older Whiting establishments.

The Whiting Paper Company, organized by William Whiting in 1865, makes writing, bond and ledger paper of high grade. Its healthy growth is good news to Holyoke in more ways than one, for the newest mill has been set up in buildings purchased from a cotton textile corporation which had given up.

The Whiting establishment, moreover, is evidence that New England sons and grandsons do not always "walk out" on the business built by their forebears.

With the retirement of the Secretary of Commerce from the organization, his eldest son, William Whiting, 3d, a graduate of Amherst College in the class of 1915, moves into the presidency, the second son takes his place as treasurer, and a third son becomes secretary of the company and will devote himself to manufacture.

This news from Holyoke is encouraging. It shows that something CAN be done with cotton mills which die from old-age-of-machinery. It proves that New England's manufacturing families do not always quit their "line."

ONE family of Whiting's is worth more to an industrial town than ten cotton mills bossed by bankers fifty miles away.
